WINNING PARTNERSHIP

Australian Government
Australian Sports Commission

MESSAGE FROM THE AUSTRALIAN SPORTS COMMISSION

The countdown to an Olympic and Paralympic Games is an exciting time for Australians. As London 2012 looms on our horizon there is much work to be done to fine tune our preparations.

The Australian Government and the Australian Sports Commission (ASC) continue to work closely with Olympic and Paralympic sports, along with the Australian Olympic and Paralympic Committees to ensure our athletes get the best possible support.

Through the Green and Gold project, $3.85 million in extra funding has been provided for our top Olympic athletes and teams to boost their training and preparations for London 2012.

A true sign that Australian sport is united in working together is the endorsement from the Commonwealth, State and Territory Governments of the National Sport and Active Recreation Policy Framework.

What this means is that for the first time all governments have agreed on priorities for sport.

Underpinning the Framework is the new National Institutes System Intergovernmental Agreement which unites our National Institutes of Sport and national sporting organisations to work hand-in-hand to achieve common national high performance objectives to maximise resourcing and expertise in support of the development of world class athletes to achieve international success.

This Framework is supported by significant additional investment in sport by the Australian Government. The 2011-12 Budget will provide $300 million to support the full spectrum of sport from grass roots through to elite competition.

Support by the Australian Government will enable a more collaborative long term focus to drive reform within Australian sport and importantly make the connection between Australian's standing on the podium and young Australians participating in sport.

This is an exciting and challenging time for Australian sport. The Australian Sports Commission looks forward to working with all sporting organisations, the state and territory institutes and academies of sport and state and territory departments of sport and recreation, to promote access to, and participation in, sport across the community and support Australia's continued sporting success.

The Hon. Warwick Smith AM
Chairman
Board of the Australian Sports Commission

The Australian Sports Commission proudly supports Australian University Sport

The Australian Sports Commission is the Australian Government agency that develops, supports and invests in sport at all levels in Australia. Australian University Sport has worked closely with the Australian Sports Commission to develop university sport from community participation to high-level performance.

Australian University Sport is one of many national sporting organisations that has formed a winning partnership with the Australian Sports Commission to develop their sport in Australia.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

As will be apparent from this Annual Report, 2011 was a challenging but highly successful year for Australian University Sport (AUS). Our traditional activities and our partnership with the Australian Sports Commission have flourished and in addition new initiatives have been undertaken, including management of the Australian Masters Games. Additionally, much ground work in laying the foundations for new programs has been completed in 2011.

Working with ACUMA, AUS lobbied successfully for the reintroduction of a compulsory services and amenities fee to help ensure the financial viability of ongoing sport and recreational activities on university campuses. I take this opportunity to thank members for their support for the lobbying effort. We are cognisant of and acknowledge the many letters and representations members made to politicians throughout the course of this long campaign.

AUS aims to support sport on university campuses at two levels.

The first is to identify and to help develop and support elite athletes across Olympic, national and international sports. Young people able to combine participation at the highest level of sport with academic achievement are very special and our universities must make it easier for them to do so. Our elite athlete friendly universities program helps them to achieve their academic potential and our facilities and sporting competitions provide opportunities for them to develop to their full athletic potential. There is an increasing recognition of the valuable contribution university sport makes to elite athlete and coach development at national and international levels. This is evidenced in particular by the growing status of the World University Summer Games event, and the elevated high performance culture that now pervades the Australian Team.

The second and equally important role of AUS is to promote a healthy lifestyle through participation in sport. The increasing prevalence of obesity, diabetes and other lifestyle-related disease makes it more important than ever that the critical years of tertiary study are seen as an opportunity to incorporate regular participation in sport and physical activity as an integral part of a healthy lifestyle. AUS is increasingly supporting its members to provide programs across their universities encouraging widespread participation by students, staff and alumni in sporting and other physically active recreational pursuits.

I thank the Board for their voluntary and expert guidance of AUS, as well as their willing contributions to Board appointed standing committees. I also thank CEO, Don Knapp and all the staff of AUS for their superb work throughout the year. Additionally, AUS section managers provide the organisation with strong and directed leadership at all times. Finally, I thank the members of AUS for their active implementation and ongoing support of the strategies of AUS.

MEMBERSHIP CLASSES

The categories of membership of AUS, (collectively called “members”) as outlined in the AUS constitution shall be:

- a. Members as described in rule 8, and
- b. Life members as described in rule 9.

In respect to Clause 8 (8.1 and 8.2) a Member must be:

- 8.1 a. an Australian university, or
b. an Australian higher education institution which in the opinion of the Board meets criteria specified in the By-Laws for membership under this part of this Rule.
- 8.2 The member will be represented by the designated Delivery Agent for Sport within the member organisation. In this clause "Delivery Agent for Sport" means the entity of or within the University or higher education institution, recognised by the University or higher education institution as being chiefly responsible for the delivery of sport, regular physical activity and recreational services on campus. A member will notify AUS of its Delivery Agent for Sport and its relevant contact details and persons.

CEO'S REPORT

In a word, “busy” is how one might describe the year. Not busy from the standpoint of business as usual, rather, at times AUS was stretched to the limit in 2011. Following on from the good work done in 2010 in respect to the strategic repositioning of AUS, our organisational activity was centred on two, broad strategic fronts: a) endeavouring to improve ongoing events, programs and systems; while b) taking on, or continuing to explore new and innovative program opportunities.

Back in December 2010, at its strategic review and planning session, the AUS Board established “7 – Big Rock Priorities” for the 2011 year. This report recounts the many examples of successful strategy execution, as well as areas where we may have come up short in respect to the agreed Big Rock Priorities. On balance, it is evident that 2011 was a year that featured several benchmark achievements that have and will continue to have positive impacts for the entire university sport sector for years to come.

2011 PERFORMANCE IN RESPECT TO BIG ROCK PRIORITIES

1 – KEEPING UP WITH GROWTH

AUS set an ambitious growth agenda for 2011, while intensifying lobbying efforts in support of the Services and Amenities Fee Bill. In consideration of members’ feedback and AUS Board and management assessments, new product research and development opportunities were identified and priorities established for the following programs:

- Ernst & Young Uni-league feasibility study
- TAFE sport – research and growth in participation
- Australian Masters Games management/partnership potential; and
- AUS and sector-wide health promotions

The Board and management identified that the creation of new products and expansion was a high risk activity, with the potential to threaten successful, existing AUS core programs, staff capacity and financial viability. It was agreed that any new proposed programs would undergo thorough risk analysis and this practice has been imbedded in AUS risk management policies and procedures. This practice was particularly useful in the eventual decision for AUS to take on the management rights and partnership arrangement with the Confederation of Australian Sport (CAS) for the 2011 Australian Masters Games (AMG).

Significant, yet manageable growth and progress was achieved in major priority areas in 2011. As we strive to increase the university sport footprint in the future, managing growth represents an ongoing organisational challenge.

CEO'S REPORT

2 – AUS AND AUSTRALIAN SPORTS COMMISSION (ASC) STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP

This relationship was redefined in 2011 and the ASC now considers AUS a strategic partner. The partnership strengthened in 2011, with the ASC supporting several innovative projects.

- The ASC fully funded the Ernst & Young Uni-league feasibility study. This study and the findings will shape and influence future Uni-league business modelling and pilot programs.
- The TAFE-sport research project and activities undertaken by Regional Development Officers (RDOs) aimed at increasing TAFE student participation at regional games was in large-part funded through a new, ongoing ASC Participation grant program.
- Increased ASC High Performance funding enabled AUS, along with partner universities and national sporting organisations (NSOs) to offer student-athletes and coaches the highest ever levels of participation subsidies for the World University Summer Games (WUSG) program (Shenzhen, China).
- The National Talent Identification Program (NTID) in the university sport sector was disassembled by the ASC in late 2010, owing to the strategic re-positioning of the program. Both the WUSG and the World Winter Games teams benefited from this, as the ASC approved the former NTID grant to be used in support of these respective 2011 programs.

The partnership between the ASC and AUS signifies the growing awareness that the university sport sector not only contributes valuable resources and support for the national sports program currently, but also that university sport can be more effectively integrated into national sports pathway in the future.

"I think our universities become a real hive of innovation but can also assist our athletes. If a [student] – athlete can't be at an academy or institute there is no better place for them to be than at university actually studying and training at the same time. And that's something that I support and will be working towards". (Hon Min for Sport Senator Mark Arbib, NESC Conference – December 2011).

We thank the ASC for their support throughout 2011, while expressing appreciation for the efforts of our Senior Sports Partnership Manager, Peter Minchin.

3 – IMPROVING SPORT OUTCOMES THROUGH EVENTS

With the aim of improving existing events, in 2010, members will recall that under the direction of the Sport Strategy Committee, the ad-hoc Improving Sport Outcomes Committee (ISOC) was created to review AUS events. The objectives of the ISOC review included:

- To raise the standard of sport outcomes at regional and national events
- To provide better value to those attending AUS events
- To raise the profile of AUS events
- To create an identifiable link, or pathway between regional and national events; and
- To address potential risks associated with events (alcohol consumption, social/party perception, event culture).

2011 was a year that featured the implementation of many of the recommendations made as a result of the ISOC review. Perhaps the most significant advent was the qualification policy, that required universities to qualify through participation in regional games in the five most oversubscribed team sports in order to advance to competition at the Australian University Games. Other significant developments resulting from the ISOC review included:

- Ongoing commitment to UTM training programs including a focus on responsible use of alcohol education and strategies for participants at events; and
- The creation of the Central Regional Games to assist in AUG qualification pathways.

Upon the recommendation of ISOC Chair and AUS Director Brendan Lynch, and ISOC Secretary and AUS National Programs Manager Donna Spethman, this ad-hoc Committee will continue its work beyond its original tenure and brief. As this Committee is composed mainly from members, ISOC is considered an excellent representative reference group and vital to the aim of AUS to continually improve sport outcomes for participants and members.

4 – SPORT SECTOR DEVELOPMENT AND SUSTAINABILITY

Transitioning out of the RUSFP

An identified financial risk and challenge to AUS in 2011 was the inevitable expiration of the RUSFP grant at the end of 2010. Clearly, both AUS and members faced additional resource challenges with the loss of this 4-year, $2.5 million per annum grant, of which the majority was paid out directly to members in staff salary subsidies and participation incentive funding from 2007 through 2010. Growth in sport participation on campuses and at national and regional events during the RUSFP era was substantial and sustained in 2011.

Services and amenities fee legislation (SAF)

It was a long lasting, and at times frustrating campaign, but the SAF Bill passed into legislation in the next to last sitting session of the Senate in 2011 on 12 October. The campaign was also expensive, as the AUS and ACUMA partnership invested $180K from 2007 through 2011 towards the lobbying effort ($120K of the total was spent on the VSU Impact Study).

At the time of writing this report, it is too early to get a helicopter view of how Sport Delivery Agents (SDAs) across the 41 AUS member campuses have benefited, or otherwise from the introduction of the SAF. Although the passing of the legislation is a major triumph, the outcomes for SDAs are yet to be determined sector-wide.

AUS thanks ACUMA for their long-standing and committed support during the protracted lobbying period. Former ACUMA President Tom O'Sullivan, who tragically lost his courageous battle against cancer late in 2011, should and will be remembered as the driver and strategic leader of the lobbying campaign. It is rewarding and just to know that Tom was well enough to celebrate the passing of the SAF legislation prior to his passing.

Tom O'Sullivan 1957-2011

" Always rockin' ... Tom O'Sullivan brought student services together and helped to establish university events. "

The Case for University Sport

In October 2011, immediately after the passing of the SAF legislation, AUS circulated to Vice Chancellors the discussion paper "The Case for University Sport". A major aim of this project was to raise the awareness of vice chancellors and executive managers at universities about the value, role and importance of sport participation as an integral aspect of a well rounded higher education. Feedback from a variety of levels among university hierarchies has been very positive in response to the paper. AUS remains committed to further developing projects for which the case for supporting university sport on campus can be convincingly articulated.

CEO'S REPORT

Members' benefits and support

In 2011, AUS has remained committed to providing members with tangible support and value for money membership benefits, including:

- Continued build-up of the capacity of regional development operations
- National conferences and regional forums
- Shared industry knowledge, training and professional development
- National IT and communications system (NCD)
- Direct assistance and support for lobbying for sport on campuses and/ or sector wide
- Undertaking relevant sector research and collecting and sharing benchmarking and participation data through surveys and other means

5 – BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

There were several encouraging business growth developments in 2011. A specific business aim was to create new products with an over-riding objective of generating additional and diversified income opportunities. It was confidence boosting for AUS to win the bid for management rights to the iconic AMG, and at the same time enter into an arrangement with CAS that has commercial potential.

Commercialisation of the NCD

Owing to delays in finalising the last of several key functions for the NCD, AUS is well behind original roll-out and member uptake targets. This of course has significantly inhibited attempts to commercialise and generate revenue from this national communications tool in 2011.

Relationships with commercial partners

It is clear that relationships with sponsors and preferred suppliers have strengthened in 2011, as evidenced by:

- Longer term retention of partners
- Increased levels of support from partners
- Continuation of the Tertiary Access Group (TAG) partnership
- Recruitment of additional preferred suppliers; and
- Improved quality of partner servicing and reporting protocols

6 – HEALTH PROMOTION

Progress in respect to the objectives for this priority has been limited in 2011, although some significant developments have occurred, including:

- The Board appointed the Improving Health Outcomes Committee (IHOC) and identified the terms of reference for the sub-committee
- IHOC has collected data from SDAs about current program activity in respect to health promotion on campuses as well as further engagement in health promotional activity. From the data, it was evident that few SDAs are currently engaged in health promotional activity beyond encouraging regular physical activity; and that SDAs would like to become more engaged in campus health promotional activity.

Additionally, IHOC has taken on the roll of ensuring ongoing responsible use of alcohol management and education remains a feature of UTM training programs. It is encouraging to note that there was a significant reduction in alcohol related incident reports during the 2011 AUG (Gold Coast).

7 – FINANCE AND ADMINISTRATION

The 2011 financial reports are comprehensively reported upon later in this annual report. From an operational standpoint, a major focus was keeping our heads above water financially in 2011, post the RUSFP. Originally, AUS made provision for the likelihood of needing to transfer $100K from reserves to achieve a break even trading position. It is pleasing to report that this transfer was not necessary. Factors that enabled this better than expected trading result without transfers included:

- Approval from the ASC to utilise the former NTID grant in support of the WUSG program
- Better than anticipated interest returns on the AUS investment portfolio
- Additional income generated from the management rights for the AMG
- Effective financial management and control

To be overly jubilant about a year in which AUS has managed a slightly better than break-even financial result could lead to setting the bar too low in the future. On the other hand, for a not-for-profit organisation to achieve break-even in the year immediately after the expiration of a $2.5 million annual government grant program is not bad going.

Risk management

In 2011, AUS achieved full operational implementation of its new Risk Management Policy and Procedures system.

WITH THANKS

There are many people and stakeholders who have made valuable and generous contributions to AUS in 2011 and a few of the more significant achievements are acknowledged below.

ISOC

The work of the ISOC, Chaired by Director Brendan Lynch and driven by National Programs Manager Donna Spethman not only produced excellent outcomes, but exemplified how effectively the Board, senior staff and members can work together to improve university sport. Thank you for your good work.

WUSG

The 2011 WUSG team produced our best-ever result. Under the leadership of Chef de Mission Martin Roberts and National High Performance Manager Siobhan James, a key ingredient to the improving performance of this program over the past two Universiades is the strengthening of relationships between AUS and NSOs...thanks team.

AMG

General Manager Tony Jermyn, Project Manager Ian Fitzpatrick and Business Development Manager Fiona Cullen spearheaded AUS's first go at managing the AMG. This event certainly presented many challenges. Taking on this project was well worth the effort, as AUS has forged a strong working relationship with event owner/partners CAS, while delivering an event that participant survey results indicate was both enjoyable and well organised. Pleasingly, the 2011 AMG also achieved a financial outcome that was true to budget.

CEO'S REPORT

Finance, administration and all staff

The AUS finance and administration team under the direction of Glenys Woolcock, took on additional work in 2011 providing back-up support in a number of areas owing to the very hectic year of activity AUS undertook. In fact all staff stepped up to the plate admirably in this busy year. In particular, Regional Development Officers (RDOs) and coordinators displayed strong leadership and decision making skills throughout the year.

AUS Board of Directors

Under the leadership provided by President Richard Larkins, the Board provided AUS with a sound, yet challenging strategic rudder. I would like to thank all Directors for their constant willingness to help at all levels, while at the same time allowing staff to operationalise strategy without undue interference.

Members, students and volunteers

Finally, and most importantly, AUS receives tremendous support from both its members and students who participate in sport in increasing numbers throughout the sector. Thank you for helping make 2011 a successful year.

NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

TAFE SPORT

AUS made some impressive steps forward in 2011 with four new TAFE institutions competing at regional university games events. In the south Chisholm Institute and Holmesglen sent teams to Geelong and in the east region Sydney Institute and North Sydney Institute participated in an AUS event for the first time when they joined South Western Sydney and Canberra Institutes in sending teams to Canberra. In all 142 TAFE students participated in regional university games across the country.

Although the progress in this sector has been slower than initially expected there have been some positive indications with all six TAFE institutions that competed in 2011 confirming that they will be participating again in 2012. The total number of participating institutes is expected to double in 2012 with strong expressions of interest already received.

AUS has worked closely with TAFE institutions not only on event participation but also with lecturers to build team management and organisation into the course curricula across the country. Many of the participating TAFE teams are now being organised by students themselves as part of their studies.

AUS has also worked in collaboration with engaging TAFE institute Directors to support the move for their students to engage in sporting opportunities on campus.

NATIONAL COMMUNICATION DATABASE (NCD)

Following completion of stage one of system development, 2011 saw the implementation of a national roll out plan to members through training of sports officers, management and clubs by AUS RDOs. The NCD now has over 30 sport delivery agent sites created within the system, the majority of which are made up of test sites and those in development stages due for release in 2012. Of the current created sites, four members have sites that are live:

Flinders University – www.unisport.com.au/flinders
Swinburne University – www.unisport.com.au/swinburne
Queensland University of Technology – www.unisport.com.au/qutsport
Deakin University – www.unisport.com.au/dusasport

The RDOs will continue working with members in 2012 to create sites as required and assist with site mapping, development and ongoing training according to SDA specific requirements. Members are yet to engage with the full capacity of the NCD including the ability to sell merchandise and/ or other products online, create full club sites with customised templates for managing teams and club activities, and event manager tools. AUS invested a reasonable sum in 2011 to complete the event management module in order to provide the capability to manage event registrations, collect payments (linked directly to nominated bank account) and email participants. The NCD is a free website for all AUS members to access. It is a purpose built site that can be customised to suit the needs of members.

NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

HEALTH PROMOTION

In May of 2011, AUS distributed a member health check survey designed to provide a greater understanding of how universities and member organisations see their role, and approach the health promotions space within the university community. The results of the survey indicated that only a handful of members currently engage the university population in some form of health promotional activity. Of the 37 universities who responded, over 94% indicated that they would 'like' to become more engaged, and 97% indicating that they 'should' become more involved in university community and wider community health promotion initiatives.

In light of these results, AUS, in consultation with the Improving Health Outcomes Committee (IHOC) investigated a variety of health promotion initiatives with the goal of establishing the best fit campaign for members and TAFE institutions, and one that would ultimately capture the 18 - 25 year student market.

In December, AUS successfully partnered with the Zaidee's Rainbow Foundation, to pilot a health promotions initiative in the south region in 2012 called Zaidee's Physical Feats and Health Hour. The health promotion initiative, scheduled 16-20 April, is designed to get participants active in a non competitive environment, with the key message; healthy body, healthy organs, focusing on inspiring discussion around becoming an organ and tissue donor.

REGIONAL REPORTS

SOUTH

2011 was an extremely eventful year for the south region. The south universities were well represented at all AUS events and combined, achieved some 24 gold, 22 silver and 25 bronze medals at the AUG alone. Five south universities finished within the top 15 Australian University Games (AUG) rankings, the highest number of universities from any one region within the top 15.

The south region demonstrated a unified approach to the ongoing development of the university sport sector by hosting a number of south sport officer and manager workshops throughout the year. The workshops provided an opportunity for members to come together to share ideas as well as learn about and foster successful programs being offered by other members. The workshops were particularly successful in assisting members gain a better understanding of, and further champion their 'Case for Sport' leading into the reintroduction of the SAF.

Highlights from 2011 included:

- DUSA and Deakin University partnering with AUS to host a successful Southern University Games (SUG) in Geelong. The Games proved to be a tremendous success with a big thank you to all of the staff at DUSA for their ongoing support.
- Two new TAFE institutes attended the SUG; Chisholm Institute and Holmesglen, students and staff alike thoroughly enjoyed the Games experience with plans already well underway for more teams in 2012.
- 2011 saw the introduction of the Central University Games (CUG), Adelaide, as an AUS regional Games event with all three South Australian Universities acting as Games hosts.
- An increase in participation growth at the SUG by over 57% to 1577, up from 901 in 2010.
- Strong headway was made in the continuing commitment to grow and develop working relationships with TAFE institutes across the region, with AUS working with Box Hill Institute and Gipps TAFE to build programs and course curricula around future participation at the SUG.

- Victoria University (VU) celebrated a successful 2011 with the opening of the new, state of the art Institute of Sport Exercise and Active Living research facility, as well as the introduction of a Youth Sport Program designed to offer greater sport and physical recreation opportunities to the VU students.
- Monash Sport released redevelopment master plans of its sports precinct which will see Monash Sport better align itself with key university strategic objectives along with key facility upgrades.

2011 would not have been the success it was without the passion, commitment, drive and enthusiasm displayed by each and every staff member working within the south universities and TAFE institutes. A huge thankyou to all south members for their invaluable work throughout the year, especially to the University Team Managers (UTMs) and the continuation to drive participation at all AUS events.

2011 saw the wide reaching north region engaging in an action packed year for university sport. Despite a reasonably high staff turn over, the north members embraced challenges to collectively boast a successful year of university sport. Some highlights for the year include:

- The University of New England partnered with AUS to host the Northern University Games (NUG) in Armidale, NSW. The Games were a huge success largely due to the ideal facilities and ongoing support provided by SportUNE and the community of Armidale.
- A big year for Bond University taking out the overall NUG champion trophy, AUG per capita and the overall AUS per capita.
- Southern Cross University were host to the AUC Surfing and used the 'home ground' advantage to win both the mens and womens divisions as well as the overall championship. The AUC Triathlon also saw another win for the north with Griffith University claiming the overall champion title.
- Facility developments: University of the Sunshine Coast opened an olympic standard swimming pool in their pre-existing sports precinct. Griffith University opened a new Aquatic & Fitness Centre at the Mt Gravatt campus as the Gold Coast campus await tennis, beach volleyball and basketball facility rebuilds amidst Gold Coast University Hospital developments due for completion in 2012. The University of Queensland also successfully rebuilt a number of flood damaged facilities and did an incredible job of managing programs given the tough circumstances.
- North member sport officer workshops were reintroduced with four face-to-face member meetings held throughout the year including general workshops, post event review sessions and end-of-year forum.
- Although TAFE participation didn't come to fruition for the NUG, strong headway was made for future involvement with Southbank TAFE managing to integrate recruitment and team management into course practicum, as well as increased interest from key Queensland and northern New South Wales TAFEs to utilise the NUG as a key sporting opportunity for students in 2012.

As a whole the north achieved promising outcomes, particularly with increased regional Games participation from 650 (Toowoomba 2010) to just under 880 participants in 2011, attributable to both the hard work of UTMs and the qualification policy. To all north members, thank you for your commitment to providing students at your institution with the ultimate experience through on-campus programs and AUS event participation.

EAST

2011 was a highly successful year for the east region with the major highlight being the University of Sydney bringing the AUG Overall Champion University and the Overall Snow Sports trophies back to the east region.

Canberra hosted the 2011 Eastern University Games with 2268 students making the trip to the nation's capital for the event. With 15 sports on offer the competition was hotly contested. A big thank you must go to the University of Canberra and in particular UC Life who were the partner university for the event and were exceptionally good hosts.

It was also a year that saw the introduction of the Eastern University Oztag Championship that was held at Macquarie University. The regional championship event was the first to be held in the region for a number of years and saw 12 teams from both universities and TAFE institutes from across Sydney do battle under brilliant blue skies. Congratulations Macquarie on their victory in the men's competition with ACPE taking out the mixed competition. It was a tremendous inaugural year of the event that Australian Oztag and AUS look forward to continuing well into the future.

2011 highlights were:

- 2268 students participating in the Eastern University Games (EUG), up from 1925 in 2010.
- The addition of rugby league 7's, squash singles and futsal onto the EUG sports list.
- Two new TAFE Institutions participating at the EUG with Sydney Institute and North Sydney Institute joining regular participants Canberra Institute of Technology and South Western Sydney Institute.
- Introduction of the Eastern University Oztag Championships with 12 teams competing in a one day competition in both men's and mixed divisions.
- University of Sydney winning the overall AUG and Snow Sports events.
- NSW retain the tertiary rugby league title with a draw against Queensland in Queensland.

A huge thank you must go to all of the east members who continue to support Australian University Sport events in record numbers. East member participation was up across the board for just about every event in 2011 and that is in large part due to the enormous effort's that the UTMs continue to put forward to encourage more students to attend AUS events.

WEST

The Tertiary Sports Western Australia (TSWA) 2011 Program offered the student population of Western Australia a comprehensive series of sporting events including state university championships, qualifiers for the Australian University Games and developmental sport competitions. TSWA also administered the 'alcoholthinkagain' Fairest and Best Sport Star Awards and 'PracConnect' student field placement program.

The TSWA Program featured 29 events encompassing 26 sports with men's, women's, open and/or mixed divisions offering 46 competitions in total. An equal gender opportunity was created with 15 men's, 15 women's and 16 open and mixed sport categories offered.

The TSWA Program in 2011 attracted 2,177 participants with a gender split of 59% men and 41% women. Out of the 46 competitions on offer, a total of 98% were delivered with TSWA realizing a team occupancy of 82%. The 'alcoholthinkagain' Fairest and Best Sport Star Awards in 2011 recognised 44 elite student athletes for their sporting performances at TSWA events.

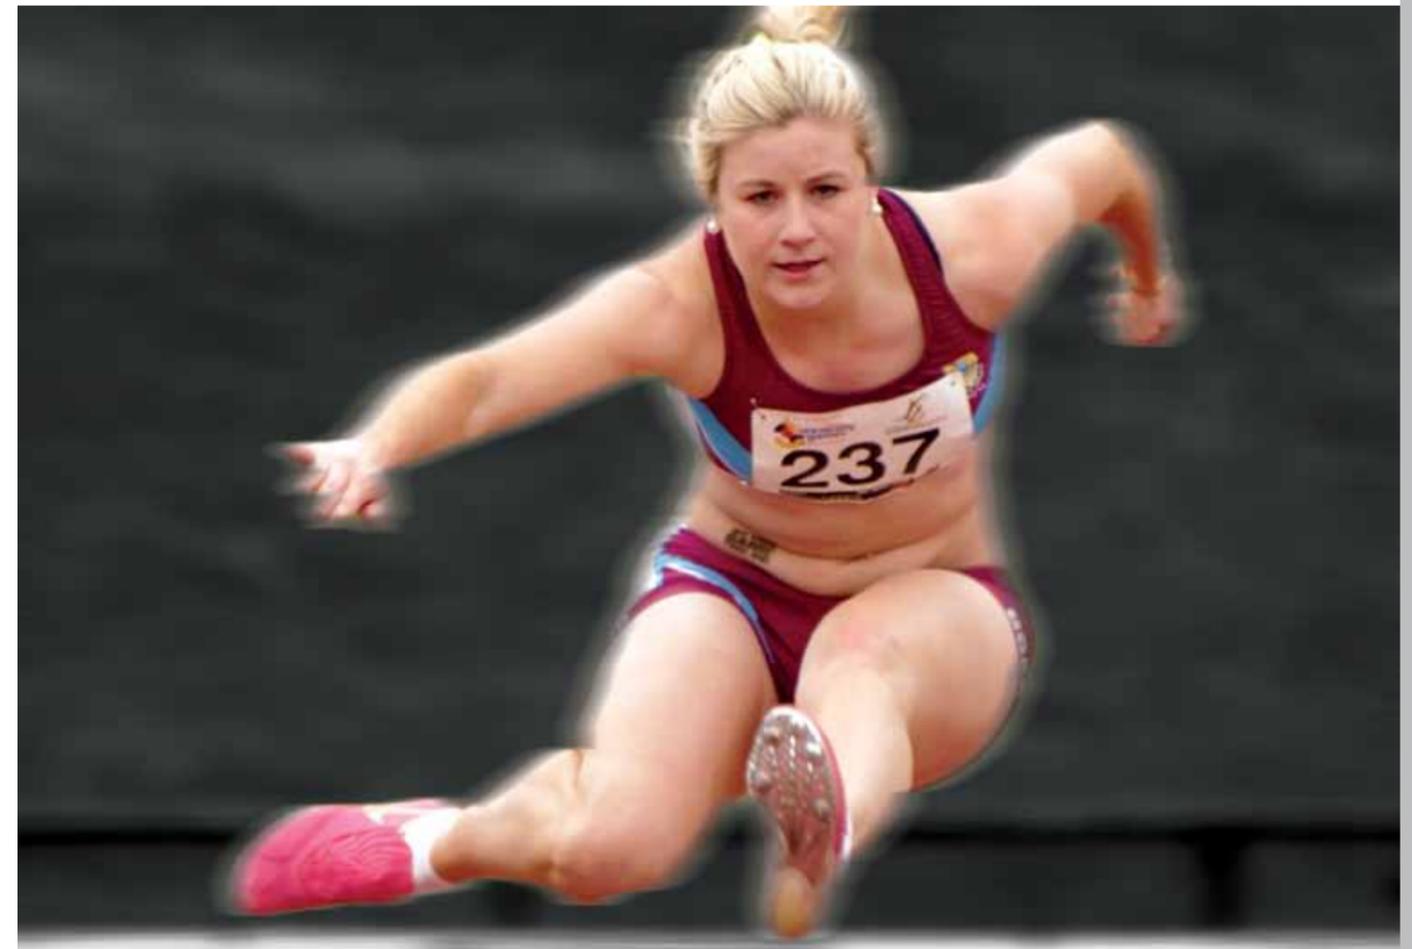

Final standings for the TSWA Program were:

Overall Champion University	The University of Western Australia	115 points
Runner up university	Edith Cowan University	111 points
3rd place	Curtin University	101 points
4th place	Murdoch University	70 points
5th place	The University of Notre Dame	57 points

The Western Spirit Award Winner - Edith Cowan University

2011 highlights included:

- The successful hosting of three feature events including the VC Cup Rowing and Sailing Regatta hosted by UWA, The Vice Chancellor's Shield Hockey Classic hosted by Curtin and the Regional Challenge hosted by ECU Bunbury.
- On the National scene the AUC Twenty20 Cricket was held in Perth with host university UWA taking out the title.
- An incoming ultimate exchange from Singapore Management University in December topped the year off attracting 107 participants. The Exchange Program featured a weekend tournament, elite player workshop and coach certification creating opportunities for W.A. student ultimate players to test their test their skills in an international arena, interact with a different culture and develop lasting friendships.

BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

AUSTRALIAN MASTERS GAMES

The 13th Australian Masters Games (13AMG) was delivered in Adelaide, South Australia between the 7 - 16 October 2011. The Confederation of Australian Sport (CAS), partnered with AUS, for the delivery of the Games. This partnership was formed in mid 2010 with the first staff appointments made by AUS in October 2010.

AUS undertook the management of the 13AMG as an opportunity to continue the development of its health agenda and highlight the importance of lifelong participation in sport and physical activity. This event provides AUS members a platform to encourage participation amongst staff and university alumni in a similar model event to that of the successful but student focused AUG.

A total of 8597 individuals competed in the 13AMG, across a program of 52 sports. Whilst final participation figures were lower than original 13AMG targets, participation did increase by some 20% compared to the 12th Australian Masters Games, Geelong. The Games also utilised in excess of 1,000 volunteers.

The Games received significant and instrumental support from the South Australian Government, through the South Australian Tourism Commission and Events SA office. The growth of the relationship between various South Australian Government offices and AUS during 13AMG will prove beneficial for the delivery of the 2012 AUG in Adelaide.

The overall feedback regarding the 13AMG has been extremely positive with participants and key event stakeholders overwhelmingly pleased with the delivery of the event and the experience provided. The final participation numbers, attraction of new participants to the Games, regional bias breakdown and overall financial performance of the Games were pleasing outcomes. AUS is currently negotiating with CAS for the management the next two games to be held in 2013 and 2015.

BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

In an increasingly competitive and difficult sponsorship environment AUS maintained its existing portfolio of national sponsors and added a number of national preferred suppliers as well as a few new event partners to the fold in 2011. In addition to the continued support of the Australian Sports Commission as Principal Partner, Red Bull and Powerade continued on as national partners for the sixth and third year in a row respectively.

The signing of a three year exclusive supplier agreement with the Canterbury Clothing Company marked an important turning point in the apparel sponsor category for AUS with a view to providing members and the World University Games teams (the Unirooms) with world class team wear and apparel. Victor Sports came on board as the new preferred supplier for medical equipment and Student Edge, a student discount card supplier, also came on board in 2011 as the lanyard sponsor as part of the agreement each AUS event participant could opt in to receive a free Student Edge discount card.

In relation to events, AUS continues to be successful at a local level in fostering relationships with sampling companies and local government agencies. In 2011, AUS was successful in securing the following new event partners across national and regional events:

- Ice Break (Iced coffee beverage produced by Parmalat Australia)
- Brooks (running and cross training shoes)
- JanSport (backpack supplier)
- Airtrain (transport)
- Transport Accident Commission (Victorian government transport authority)

MARKETING

The marketing activities delivered in 2011 built on the strength of the rebrand undertaken in 2010 and aimed to consolidate the unigames brand, "Get your game face on" tagline. The consistent application of the brand across all collateral and primary communication channels including the website, facebook page and electronic direct mail campaigns was an important focus.

This year also saw the creation of a new brand, the "Unirooms," as the official name associated with the elite high performance teams sanctioned and endorsed by AUS to compete at international university sporting events (see High Performance report for more information).

MEDIA

In 2011 AUS again received very favourable press coverage in relation to the regional games and the national games. A good deal of international coverage was also achieved thanks to the record medal haul of five gold, three silver and eight bronze medals by our high performance team at the World University Summer Games (WUSG) in Shenzhen, China.

This year was also the first time that AUS had sent a full time staff member to act as the Team Media Liaison. This role was also further supported by a volunteer intern role that was filled by a student currently undertaking a degree in journalism at University of Western Australia.

Other significant achievements included:

- Broke the 5,000 "likes" barrier on the AUS facebook page and successfully launched the Unirooms facebook page so that friends and family could follow the progress of the elite Australian team at the WUSG.
- Transitioned daily event news updates from printed publication format to online news updates via the AUS facebook page with links back to the AUS website.
- Introduction of an online broadcast partnership with Singapore based company Voxsports to capture and produce online video footage of the Australian University Games (AUG) on the Gold Coast. With the expansion of Voxsports into Australia, AUG footage was the first content to be televised via this new online web streaming platform with 42,000 views achieved in the first twenty-four hours of the content going live.
- Secured Nova 106.9 Brisbane as the radio media partner for AUG. This partnership brought with it a number of benefits such as greater coverage across a wider listening area that extended from Brisbane down to the Gold Coast as well as live crosses and additional activations during the event via the Nova Sandmans. In 2012, AUS will again seek to establish a partnership Nova for the AUG in Adelaide.
- Secured print, radio and TV partners for each regional university games and the Australian University Games, guaranteeing extensive local media coverage for each event.
- Worked with university media outlets to provide university specific news from each unigames.

SPECIAL EVENTS

AUS again focused on providing event participants with an even richer event experience in 2011. This was achieved through creating and staging Opening Ceremony events at all regional and national games that featured a distinct ceremonial aspect and live performances by leading artists in the current music scene.

Participants at AUG were treated to a spectacular event on opening night that saw 4,550 participants descend on Dreamworld on the Gold Coast and take over the theme park for the night. The event represented phenomenal value for money to participants who had access to all the rides, a food and drink voucher, transport to and from the venue, and live entertainment by well known DJs Nina Las Vegas and the Bag Raiders all included in their entry ticket price.

Another new initiative in 2011 was the creation of a formal partnership between AUS and the Red Frogs Australia Chaplaincy Network. The specific purpose of this partnership was to provide risk management services surrounding the social program events at all AUS events. The Red Frogs Crew (as they are affectionately nicknamed) has been working in universities since 1997 and can be found in 130+ student residential colleges spanning across 24 universities in Australia.

The Red Frogs Crew provided participants across all AUS multi sport events with hydration stations and snacks at a marquee set up each night alongside the social program venues. They also operated a 1300 number that students could call to request a walk home service to escort them home safely or to get assistance in the event that they or their friends required assistance to get home safely. Red Frogs also took part in the breakfast event that was held on the Tuesday of AUG where they did a pancake cook up to compliment the Ice Break sampling at the Transit Centre Games transport hub.

WORLD UNIVERSITY SUMMER GAMES

The 26th Summer Universiade in Shenzhen, China represented Australia's 20th appearance at the event. The 2011 team continued to build on the successes of the past with the 215 strong delegation representing the largest team ever sent.

Australia's participation in 16 of the 23 sports on offer contributed to this country's largest ever international university team being assembled to compete in a FISU sanctioned event. The Australian delegation of 148 athletes and 67 officials included a total of 20 Olympians and 22 Commonwealth Games athletes and returned home with this country's largest ever medal haul from a universiade event. The five gold medals won were also equal to the greatest number won at a Universiade.

Along with the competitive success of the team, there were a number of significant cultural and branding exercises undertaken to establish the standing of the AUS high performance program and its international teams in the greater Australian sporting landscape and to develop a continued culture of success for the future. The 2011 Australian Summer Universiade team were the first to compete under the new AUS international team identity of 'Australian Unirooms' which will carry forward and be the name used for all international teams at future Summer and Winter Universiades as well as World University Championship events.

To coincide with and assist in the development of this identity, a new logo, team colours (a return to the green and gold with the colour codes specifically developed for our teams), team values and team mission were implemented. The 'We Are Australia' catch line of the Australian Unirooms team values was adopted on all team uniforms and the majority of collateral to reinforce the values associated with being a member of an Australian Unirooms team.

Behind the scenes, another significant achievement for the 2011 Australian Summer Universiade team included the engagement and inclusion of a number of new sports including cycling and rhythmic gymnastics, as well as the re-introduction of some sports such as fencing and men's artistic gymnastics that had not been a part of an Australian team for a number of years.

Other Australian achievements of note at the 2011 Summer Universiade include:

- A fourth medal running for the women's basketball team.
- The first time that any Australian senior volleyball team had finished above the United States in an international competition.
- The achievement of a top ten result in 11 of the 16 sports entered.
- Representation of at least one athlete from 32 of the 41 universities that make up the AUS membership.
- The resulting induction of a total of 20 new medallists to the AUS honour roll along with three new champions and seven medallists requiring upgrading to champion status.
- Achieving almost 200 mentions in the Australian media across television, print and radio between April and October.
- Alice Mills (swimming) flagbearer at the Opening Ceremony.
- Sean Wroe (athletics) carrying the torch for a leg of the torch relay.
- Jennifer Star (judo) representing Oceania in lighting the cauldron during the opening ceremony.
- Australian mission staff comprising of two staff members from NSOs (basketball and athletics) as well as two staff members from the Australian Sports Commission.

The 2011 Summer Universiade should be viewed as another successful cycle in the history of university sport in Australia. With continued competitive success combining with acknowledgment in the wider Australian sporting community, the future continues to look bright for the program and the 2013 Kazan Universiade provides a further opportunity to build on this success.

AUSTRALIA'S PERFORMANCE

The 2011 Summer Universiade team achieved its highest ever medal haul in Shenzhen whilst equalling the largest ever number of gold medals won by an Australian team. Whilst not achieving its highest ever medal tally position, the team was only two gold medals short of breaking into the medal tally top ten for the first time ever.

The success of the team is also shown in the number of top 10 placings – the Unirooms placed in the top 10 on 40 occasions across 11 of the 16 sports contested.

TEAM MANAGEMENT

The 2011 Australian Summer Universiade team was serviced by a nine member senior management team. The senior management team consisted of individuals from a number of AUS stakeholders including three AUS staff members, two NSO staff members (athletics and basketball), two ASC staff members, one AUS membership staff member and one Chinese interpreter.

Chef de Mission, Martin Roberts returned for his second appointment as leader of the team and was supported by a Deputy Chef de Mission (Siobhan James – AUS), three team general managers (Adam Abbott – AUS, Renae Maycock – Basketball Australia, Paul Grogan – ASC), an administration and headquarters coordinator (Tim Klar – Athletics Australia), two media personnel (Sarah Wordsworth – AUS, Sean McMahon – UWA) and one interpreter (Jenny Pan).

The team was also supported by 35 sport officials (coaches, assistance coaches and managers), 15 medical personnel (physicians, physiotherapists and massage therapists) and eight technical officials (referees and judges)

SUPPORTERS

On behalf of the team and AUS, a tremendous vote of thanks to all the national sporting organisations and suppliers who supported the Unirooms.

WORLD UNIVERSITY WINTER GAMES

The 26th Winter Universiade in Erzurum, Turkey represented an 11th appearance by an Australian team at the event. An 18 member delegation represented our country with pride and distinction and whilst the elusive first ever winter medal remained unclaimed for another cycle, the efforts of all concerned could not be faulted.

The 2011 universiade witnessed the introduction of a first ever Australian international university biathlon team and the re-introduction of speed skating after a long hiatus from the program.

The 2011 Winter Universiade was the largest ever held in terms of participation numbers and represented the fourth largest delegation ever sent by Australia (18).

The altitude of the location had a significant impact on the ability of Australian athletes to acclimatise to competing at this elevation. Combined with temperatures that plunged to around -30 degrees Celsius there was considerable stress placed not only on the athletes but the team in general with a number of illnesses; including flu, altitude sickness and pleurisy.

Unlike previous recent Winter Universiade events, the 2011 version had the distinct advantage to all involved in that the location of the race venues to the athlete's village was minimal. Three resort hubs (Kandilli Ski Resort, Kanakli Alpine Skiing Venue and Palandoekn Ski Resort) along with a number of city centre venues were utilised to conduct all sports throughout the 2011 Winter Universiade, the furthest of which (Kandilli) was only 36km from the city centre location of the athlete village.

AUSTRALIA'S PERFORMANCE

Events entered	Medal chances	Gold	Silver	Bronze	Top 10	Top 20
18	37	0	0	0	2	3

The single best result by an Australian team member at the 2011 Winter Universiade was achieved by cross country athlete, Esther Bottomley with her ninth placing in the sprint category equalling the best ever result for an Australian cross country athlete at a Winter Universiade event.

HIGH PERFORMANCE

Whilst this was not representative of the best ever result by an Australian at a Winter Universiade, the two top ten and three top 20 results achieved by the team represented one of the most successful all round performances by an Australian team.

The 2011 Winter Universiade medal tally was won by Russia who amassed a total of 14 gold, 14 silver and 10 bronze medals throughout the 11 days of competition.

Supporters

Thanks and recognition must go to the national sporting organisations and suppliers, without whose support the team's success would not have been possible.

OCEANIA UNIVERSITY SPORTS ASSOCIATION (OUSA)

The growth and development of OUSA has been remarkable in 2011. AUS has played an integral role in the process, here are a few highlights.

Sport

The 25th Winter Universiade in Erzurum Turkey saw the OUSA members represented by two NUSF (Australia and New Zealand) with an all up participation total of 24 athletes and officials (15 athletes) although neither country made the podium this time around.

The 26th Summer Universiade was held in Shenzhen China and saw 223 athletes from 8 OUSA member countries participate (Australia, Cook Islands, Fiji, Federated States of Micronesia, New Zealand, Northern Marianas Islands, Papua New Guinea and Samoa). A total of 35 medals went home to Oceania 10 of them being Gold.

Governance

Sadly the President of OUSA was forced by family illness to step down in June 2011. A reshuffle in OUSA organisational structure as required and in accordance with the constitution the OUSA General Assembly held in Shenzhen approved the installation of Mr Ray Preston (Cook Islands) as President as well as Mr Albert Miller (Fiji) as Vice President and Mr Martin Doulton (Aus) as Secretary General for the remainder of this OUSA mandate period (till July 2014) and to co-opt Mr Michael White (NMI) onto the Executive Committee until July 2012. In addition Mr Don Knapp (Aus) was appointed as ex-officio member on the Executive Committee with particular responsibility for Finance.

The OUSA Finance Management Committee was formed and under the guidance of its chair and the support of AUS finance services OUSA finances were put into order with audits for the 2009 and 2010 years conducted and OUSA accounts prepared for the 2011 audit as well as a 2012-13 budget forecast and aligned with the OUSA 2012-13 Action Plan. The OUSA office has also been relocated to Australia along with all the organisations accounts.

FISU representation and honours

Oceania was represented by seven member NUSF at the FISU General Assembly in Shenzhen. It was humbling to witness at this meeting the awarding to a stalwart of FISU from the Oceania region Mr Alf Lazer (Australia) the honour of becoming the first FISU Honorary Emeritus Life Member. Martin Doulton (Australia) was also nominated as the Oceania continental regions delegate to the FISU Executive Committee and will serve for the period 2011-2015.

NATIONAL EVENTS

AUSTRALIAN UNIVERSITY GAMES

Continuing a strong relationship with Events Queensland and the Gold Coast City Council, the 2011 Australian University Games were again held on the Gold Coast from 25-30 September. A total of 6,460 participants from 39 member universities competed across five days of sporting competition. Twenty nine sports were contested; athletics, Australian rules football, badminton, baseball, basketball, beach volleyball, cycling, fencing, football, golf, handball, hockey, judo, kendo, lawn bowls, netball, rugby union 7s, sailing, softball, squash, swimming, table tennis, taekwondo, tennis, tenpin bowling, touch, ultimate, volleyball and water polo.

Some key initiatives were implemented for the event, each contributing to the success of the Games. These included; a centralised Games Centre and transport hub in Sufers Paradise, an opening ceremony at Dreamworld and a new sustainability program ensuring the event realised and actioned on its carbon footprint.

Under the new pennant count system, The University of Sydney were awarded the title of overall champion university. Bond University were winners of the Doug Ellis Trophy for points per capita and Murdoch University were awarded the John White Memorial Spirit of the Games Award.

REGIONAL UNIVERSITY GAMES

NORTHERN UNIVERSITY GAMES

The 2011 Northern University Games were held in the regional city of Armidale NSW. As the most southern member in the north region, the University of New England played host to over 930 participants from 10 north member universities. The Games were held from 3-7 July in conjunction with other AUS regional events. Participants competed in basketball, football, golf, hockey (women), lawn bowls, netball, rugby union 7s, squash (singles), tennis (singles), tenpin bowling, touch and volleyball. The competitions of Australian rules football, hockey (men) and squash (women) were not held due to insufficient entries.

The support shown by the partner university – University of New England and the Armidale Dumaresq Council was outstanding. Each partner provided assistance in key planning and operational matters which contributed to the success of the Games. With all participants staying on campus at the host university, a village like atmosphere also added to the comradery of the event.

Under the new pennant count system, a countback to 2nd and 3rd places was required before Bond University were announced as overall Games champions and awarded the Jodie Martin Overall Champion Trophy. University of New England won the Population Cup (for points per capita) and Queensland University of Technology were awarded the Ron Leahy Spirit of the Games Award.

EASTERN UNIVERSITY GAMES

Participants at the 2011 Eastern University Games were treated to an abnormally cold winter with the event being held in Canberra from 3-7 July. Despite sub zero temperatures, sleet, frozen fields and icy courts over 2,268 participants enjoyed competing across 15 sports including; basketball, football, futsal, handball, hockey, lawn bowls, netball, rugby league 7s, rugby union 7s, squash (singles), tennis (singles), tenpin bowling, touch, ultimate and volleyball.

Thirteen university members were joined by four TAFE institutions as well as a single team from Massey University in New Zealand who competed in Futsal. With the increased interest in this event by TAFE institutions and overseas competitors, the event will only grow from strength to strength in the coming years.

The University of Canberra and The Australian National University were both partners in the event. Not only did they provide sporting facilities and space for key Games time centres, they also provided key social venues enabling a safe social environment for students each night of the Games. Australian Capital Tourism were also key event partners.

Under the new pennant count system, University of Technology Sydney were announced as the overall champion university. The University of Sydney – Cumberland campus, were once again awarded the Ann Mitchell Trophy for points per capita and University of Western Sydney were awarded the Ben Tjen/Shane Alvisio Trophy for Spirit of the Games.

The Eastern University Games held in Canberra in 2011, saw 2268 students attend including increased numbers from TAFE institutions.

SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY GAMES

Geelong played host to the 2011 Southern University Games from 3-7 July. Support from key event partners Deakin University and the City of Greater Geelong was substantial. This strong relationship enabled event staff to liaise directly with venue operators and deliver on key event strategies. Continued support from the Transport Accident Commission also ensured key event risk strategies were realised.

A total of 1600 participants from 12 south members and two Victorian TAFE institutes competed across the event in the following sports; Australian rules football, basketball, cheerleading, cross country, football, futsal, hockey, lawn bowls, netball, squash (singles), tennis (singles), tenpin bowling, touch, ultimate and volleyball.

Latrobe University were winners of the John Campbell Overall Champion trophy in another tight result under the new pennant count system. University of Ballarat won the Hugh McKechnie Overall Champion trophy – based on points per capita, and RMIT continued their great tradition of winning the South Spirit of the Games award.

CENTRAL UNIVERSITY GAMES

With the full implementation of the AUS qualification policy, an event enabling the South Australian universities a pathway to qualify for AUG was developed. In its first year, the 2011 Central University Games offered participation in the five AUG qualification sports only; basketball, football, hockey, netball and touch. Whilst numbers were lower than expected, the enthusiasm for the event will ensure that it will continue into its second year in 2012.

AUSTRALIAN UNIVERSITY CHAMPIONSHIPS

The 2011 Australian University Championship Orienteering was a category within the National Orienteering Championships held outside of Perth, Western Australia over the Easter long weekend. 11 universities competed (18 participants in total) which was down on previous years. Due to low participation numbers, no overall university champion could be awarded. Oscar Phillips from University of Tasmania was the first male across the line with Aislinn Prendergast from The University of Melbourne taking line honours in the womens event. The Australian National University was awarded the womens teams champion pennant.

The 2011 Australian University Championship Surfing was held as a stand alone event for the first time in a number of years. The event was held at Cabarita, NSW from 26-29 June and hosted by Southern Cross University. Forty five participants from nine universities hit the waves across the disciplines of stand up, long board and body board. Southern Cross University were convincing in winning the overall champion title and trophies.

The popular 2011 Australian University Championship Snow Sports returned to Thredbo, NSW attracting 333 participants from a record 19 universities. Held from 28 August to 1 September, participants were able to enter both ski and snowboard disciplines including:

- Alpine – slalom, giant slalom and super G;
- Freestyle – moguls, skier cross, slopestyle and rails;
- Snowboard – giant slalom, boarder cross, slopestyle and rails; and,
- Cross county – individual, relay

The increased number of competing universities in turn saw a higher standard of competition. The event also continues to gain support and participation from high profile skiers such as Olympians Scott Kneller (The University of New South Wales) and Katya Crema (The University of Melbourne).

The 2011 Australian University Championship Triathlon was held as a category within The Kingscliff Triathlon. A new event on the Triathlon race calendar, the Kingcliff Triathlon is a boutique event and in 2011 was conducted using an open water swim. Held on 11 September the event saw only a small number (17) of university participants choose to compete in the university championship category. Despite the small numbers, enough team entries were received from local members to award Griffith University the overall champion pennant.

For the second year in a row, the 2011 Australian University Championship Distance Running was held as a category within the Sydney Running Festival. The ability to engage with a premier running festival such as this event, provides the opportunity for participants to take part in either the marathon, half marathon or 9 km run. This year the championship attracted 263 participants representing 24 universities across the three distances. The overall winning university was The University of Sydney.

Every second year, when the AUG is held on the Gold Coast, the Australian University Championship Rowing is held as a stand alone championship. In 2011 the championships were held at Australia's premier rowing venue, Sydney International Regatta Centre. Held from 26-30 September, 223 rowers from 15 university boat clubs competed in testing conditions across all races. Inclement weather saw a number of races cancelled on the final day however the weather did not dampen the spirits of participants. The University of Melbourne were outright winners and crowned male and female champion university. They also took home AUS's prized trophy – The Oxford Cambridge Cup as winner of the men's eight competition.

The majestic grounds of UWA sports park in Perth Western Australia played host to the 2011 Australian University Championship Twenty20™ Cricket. One hundred students from seven universities contested the championship with host university, The University of Western Australia taking home the overall champion pennant and trophy.

AUS HONOUR ROLL

University sport is steeped in history and Australia has produced many champions since the inaugural World University Games held in Paris in 1923. In 2010 Australian University Sport recognised more than 200 athletes through the establishment of the Australian University Sport Honour Roll.

This Honour Roll includes two categories - champions and medallists.

Champions are masters in their chosen sport and are athletes who have competed and won multiple medals (including one gold) at a single event, or multiple medals at more than one World University Games or Championship event.

Medallists are an elite group of athletes that have won a medal at a World University Games or Championship event.

From 2011 international results, the 2012 Honour Roll inductees will include:
